The Primary Education Teacher Training Degree (PETTD) has the purpose of training future teachers in Primary Education, which involves students from 6 to 12 years old in the areas of Language, Maths, Natural and Social Science, Social and Cultural knowledge, and Visual Arts. In addition several majors (Menciones) are offered in the last year, to strength their profile in specialized areas of the curriculum.

The aim of this Degree is to contribute to the physical, emotional, social and intellectual development of children around three age periods (6-8, 8-10 and 10-12 years old), throughout the curriculum delivered. In this age period children develop basic structures of thinking, affections, mobility, communication, interpersonal relationships, creativity, etc., laying the foundations for future and more advanced and complex skills, knowledge and competences as students and as future citizens.
